

Women of the church, are you looking for an experience this summer that will inspire and refresh you? Would you enjoy listening to talented women preach, hearing Dove Award winning Christian musicians perform, watching thought provoking drama, and laughing at outrageously funny comedians? All this and more happens at a Women of Faith Conference. And, if you have never had the worship experience of being surrounded by 30,000 women singing "How Great Is Our God", then you need to experience it at least once. You won't soon forget it.

Here is your invitation to attend the 2008 Women of Faith Conference being held in Cleveland, Ohio, at Quicken Loans Arena on July 18 and 19. Rev. Rebecca Innerst, Terri Wilhelm, and Kelly Bericchia will be organizing a group of women to attend this year's conference. The theme this year is "Infinite Grace" and we have reserved great seats on the floor of the arena. We will leave Friday afternoon and return Saturday evening and we will arrange carpooling. We have reservations at the Cleveland Marriott Downtown Hotel, which is within walking distance of the arena. Our discounted ticket price is $73 per person for both sessions and includes lunch on Saturday. The price for the hotel room is $75 per person in a double room. For more information about the conference, visit the website www.womenoffaith.com or ask one of us. To reserve your place, please call Kelly Bericchia at 330-821-2410. We hope you will join us.
